Teaching for Learning

Institutional and Academic Induction Programme for Newly Appointed University Teachers

Who should attend?

Newly appointed university teachers: permanent, fixed-term, part-time and nGAP university teachers. This professional learning programme is compulsory for all newly appointed university teachers to support them as they prepare for their university teacher role.

Purpose of the programme:

The purpose of this professional development initiative is to create a welcoming environment for recently appointed university teachers. This involves initially introducing them to institutional information to acquaint themselves with the structures and operations of essential components within TUT. Additionally, they will be provided with an overview and background of the current trends in Higher Education to improve the quality of learning, teaching, and assessment at Tshwane University of Technology. The programme further endeavours to introduce colleagues to the particular teaching context relevant to TUT.

Learning Outcomes of this programme:

By the end of this programme you should be able to:

- Demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of the institutional structures and operations within Tshwane University of Technology (TUT).
- Analyse and apply relevant trends in Higher Education, demonstrating an understanding of how these trends can positively impact your instructional methods and contribute to improved educational outcomes.
- Demonstrate the ability to incorporate varied pedagogical strategies and exhibit competence in employing assessment and feedback practices that contribute to enhanced student learning.

Mode of the programme:

Online asynchronous learning.
